Memorium

Dear RSS Members,

I am very saddened to relay the news that Larry Busch passed away on December 28th at the age of 74, after struggling with a series of chronic and acute health issues.

Larry was a highly distinguished rural sociologist, and an active and valued member of the Rural Sociological Society, serving as the Society's president in 1997-98. Over a long and extraordinarily productive career he was characterized by his exemplary scholarship, mentoring, friendship and collegiality.

Larry began his academic career at the University of Kentucky, and later took a position as Professor of Sociology at Michigan State University, where he spent the rest of his career, retiring in 2017. He was (co)author or (co)editor of 16 books and approximately 150 other publications, and over the years maintained strong research foci both domestically and internationally. His energy, intelligence, and good humor will be profoundly missed.

Larry's full obituary may be viewed here: <https://www.frazerfunerals.com/obituaries/Lawrence-Larry-Michael-Busch?obId=10226473#/celebrationWall>

Larry's wife Karen has encouraged RSS members wishing to remember Larry to do so by contributing to the RSS's Lawrence Busch Graduate Student Research Award, accessed through the RSS website here: https://rss.memberclicks.net/index.php?option=com\_mcform&view=ngforms&id=21625#/. Let me strongly encourage you to make a donation to this important fund in Larry's memory.

Sincerely,

Kai Schafft

RSS President
2019-2020

RSS Call for Papers, Posters, & Organized Sessions

SubscribePast IssuesTranslate ▼

Do you have an idea for a special session, panel, or field trip for the 2020 Annual Meeting in Westminster, Colorado? Do you need funding to make your session a reality?

RSS has made a limited amount of funding available to support special activities at the annual meeting.

To apply you need to work with one or more Research and Interest Group (RIG). A list of RSS RIGs is available via <https://www.ruralsociology.org/rigs>.

Contact the appropriate RIG chair(s) and/or co-chair and send them a description of the session you are proposing and a budget. They will work with you to complete an application form. Applications are due from RIGs on January 17, 2020.

Call for Papers, Posters, and Organized Sessions 83rd Annual Meeting of the Rural Sociological Society Theme: Rurality and Crises of Democracy

Deadline: February 3, 2020, 11:59 PM CST

After the 2016 U.S. Presidential Election, rural voters assumed a new importance in national debates, one that underscored both their historic importance and the extent to which they had been misunderstood and overlooked by urban America. These social and political dynamics have not been confined to the United States. In Europe, populist and nationalist movements from Britain, to Poland, Hungary, Germany and France, have claimed rural voters and the countryside, and posed increasing challenges to the integrity of the European Union while simultaneously fomenting xenophobic and anti-democratic sentiment. Similar dynamics are evident in Turkey, the Philippines, Thailand, and elsewhere. As the 2020 US Presidential Election approaches, and especially in the wake of populist movements elsewhere across the globe, questions of spatial inequalities and ideological differences demand not punditry, but scholarship. This meeting's theme brings our scholarly practice to questions of rural agency, the social, political and economic roles of rural communities, and how crises of late-stage capitalism play out unevenly across the rural/urban divide in ways that both highlight and distort the challenges rural people and places face. The Rural Sociological Society was convened in 1937 at a similarly turbulent time in world history, and then as now, it is through the patient, committed and rigorous scholarship that such upheaval can most clearly be understood, and navigated. This historical juncture represents an important moment for the theoretical, empirical, and applied contributions rural sociologists can make to unpack the contradictory realities of rurality, rural identities, spatial inequalities, the implications for democracy, and ultimately, the well-being of rural people and places.

Call for Submissions: RSS Awards

Deadline: February 28, 2020

The RSS Awards Committee is seeking submissions for the following awards:

- Distinguished Service to Rural Life
- Distinguished Rural Sociologist
- Excellence in Research
- Excellence in Instruction

SubscribePast IssuesTranslate ▼Excellence in Extension and Public Outreach

- Certificate of Appreciation
- The Fred Buttel Outstanding Scholarly Achievement Award 2020 (Book)
- The Olaf Larson Graduate Student Paper Award

When nominating someone for any award, nominators should consider whether the candidate meets the standards outlined by the RSS Code of Ethics. RSS award winners are expected to meet these standards: <https://www.ruralsociology.org/rss-ethics>.

Detail description and criteria for all awards can be found at: <http://www.ruralsociology.org/directions---nominations-for-rss-awards>

Nomination packets should include a cover letter from the principal nominator outlining the major contributions of the nominee, a biographic sketch of the candidate/organization, brief materials (e.g., brochure, report, etc.) describing the project or program if nominee is an organization or collective, and two to four letters of support.

Nomination packets should be submitted by February 28, 2020 to Gretchen Thompson, via email as.pdf application packets to: gthompson@fhi360.org.

Graduate Student and Needs-Based Travel Award

2020 Graduate Student and Needs-Based Travel Award

Deadline: February 17, 2020, 11:59 EST

The Rural Sociological Society (RSS) and the Membership Committee are pleased to announce that travel awards are available to support the attendance and participation of graduate students and rural scholars with limited travel funds at the annual conference to be held in Westminster, Colorado. These awards will be given on a competitive basis and are meant to assist students and others in defraying costs associated with attending the RSS meeting. Awardees will be reimbursed at the annual meeting in Westminster.

We anticipate granting awards at the minimum amount of $100 per recipient or at a maximum amount of $300; however, the amount of funds and the number of awards may fluctuate depending on the number of applications and the need described therein.

For more information, click here.

Diversity Travel Award

2020 Diversity Travel Award

The Rural Sociological Society (RSS) and the Committee on Diversity are pleased to announce that travel awards are available to support the attendance and participation of minority participants at the annual conference to be held in Westminster, Colorado. These awards will be awarded on a competitive basis and are meant to assist participants in defraying costs associated with attending the RSS meeting.

We anticipate granting awards at the minimum amount of $500 per recipient or at a maximum amount of $750; however, the amount of funds and the number of awards may fluctuate depending on the number of applications and the need described therein.

Eligibility and Application Requirements

To be eligible for the award, an applicant must be:

- An active participant of the meeting by presenting a paper, participating on a panel, or presenting a poster on research. We encourage applications from academics and non-academics.

In addition, for students:

- A student pursuing a degree relevant to rural studies in an academic institution.
  - A student member of the Rural Sociological Society at the time of receiving the award.

To apply, an applicant must submit:

- A completed Travel Award Application (see below)

Completed applications should be submitted via e-mail to Ian Carrillo, icarrillo@ucsb.edu not later than Monday, February 17, 2020, 11:59 pm (EST).

The Diversity Committee will make selections and announce decisions by March 31, 2020. No part of the application may be submitted by fax and only applications from individuals on their own behalf will be accepted.

Student Paper Awards

Research and Interest Group (RIGs) - 2020 Student Paper Award

What are Research and Interest Groups? Research and Interest Groups (RIGs) reflect the substantive interests of Rural Sociological Society (RSS) members and serve as an important avenue for connecting members with similar interests. RIGs serve a critical role in RSS including: identifying, developing, and recruiting for the annual RSS conference; planning special events, speakers, field trips for the annual conference; providing intellectual leadership in their respective areas; rewarding achievement through internal awards and recognitions; and creating opportunities for members, particularly graduate students, to network and identify colleagues with similar interests.

General Guidelines for Submitting Student Papers:

Be sure to read carefully the requirements set by each RIG when submitting your paper for consideration for a student paper award

- Is authored by a student or students (no faculty co-authors).
- Authors are members of the Rural Sociological Society.
- The paper may be under initial review at time of submission to a peer-reviewed journal but cannot be already accepted (in press) or published in a peer-reviewed journal.
- Students may submit the same paper to more than one RIG for consideration but it must have topical relevance and fit the criteria for each RIG.
- Students are expected to present their paper at the Annual Meeting.

RONALD WIMBERLEY STUDENT PAPER COMPETITION (Graduate and Undergraduate)

Submission Deadline: Friday, April 3rd, 2020

The Community, Health, and Family Research Interest Group (RIG) is proud to announce the seventh annual Ronald Wimberley student paper competition designed to encourage and support graduate and undergraduate student research on rural communities. The call for papers is open to a wide range of topics in keeping with the spirit of the award's namesake, Ronald Wimberley. Emphasis should be placed on the improvement of the quality-of-life in rural communities. Preference will be given to those papers that make a strong contribution to our understanding of rural community life and health. How are rural communities adapting to challenges brought about by scientific changes, economic transformation, or health needs?

Graduate Student Paper Competition Guidelines:

Papers submitted for this competition will be held to a high standard with respect to the level of scholarship. The length of the paper should range from 20-30 pages and should include a relevant review of the literature, original analysis, a clear discussion and set of conclusions, complete references, and be written at a professional level.

Undergraduate Paper Competition:

Papers submitted for undergraduate student paper competition will be similarly held to a high standard appropriate to the level of undergraduate scholarship. The length of the paper should range from 10-20 pages and should include a relevant literature review with complete references that is clearly and legibly written. Papers that include original analyses will be rated higher, but this is not a requirement for submission.

*Manuscripts may be co-authored as long as the student submitting the manuscript is the primary author.

Instructions for Submission:

To have a paper considered for review for this award, first, submit an abstract to present the paper at the 2020 annual meeting of the Rural Sociological Society. Second, submit your manuscript as an attached Word (doc. or .docx) file to Dr. Karl Jicha at kajicha@ncsu.edu by Friday, April 3, 2020. Please do not submit your paper in .pdf format, as we will need to edit them to make judging anonymous. In the subject line of the email enter "submission for graduate" or "undergraduate student paper competition." When the submissions are received, they will be sent to a panel of judges. Winners of the paper competition will be honored at the RIG reception during the RSS annual meeting, where they will receive a certificate and their award honoraria (see below). Winners will be notified via email by June 1, 2020.

Deadline for submissions: Friday, April 3rd, 2020

SubscribePast IssuesTranslate ▼

Honoraria: Graduate Paper ($250.00), Undergraduate Paper ($100.00), to be used to defray part of the cost of registering for and attending the 2020 RSS Annual Meeting in Westminster, CO.

Natural Resources

NRRIG GRADUATE STUDENT TRAVEL SCHOLARSHIP

The NRRIG Graduate Student Travel Scholarship is intended to support graduate student participation at the RSS annual meetings.

The recipient will be reimbursed for the student (member) registration cost for the RSS annual meeting ($125).

There is a two-step process for submission: 1) Submit an abstract to present an oral presentation in the area of environmental or natural resources sociology at the annual meeting; 2) submit a cover letter to the NRRIG chair (Cat Edgeley at catrin.edgeley@nau.edu) by May 4 of the year of application. Cover letters will be reviewed based on need (i.e., does the student have alternative funding sources via his/her department or advisor), and importance of the meeting to the student's career trajectory. Abstracts will be evaluated based on relevance, innovation, and/or potential contribution to the NRRIG. The winner will be selected by a committee of NRRIG members and notified by June 1 of the year of application.

NRRIG GRADUATE STUDENT PAPER AWARD

The Natural Resources Research Interest Group (NRRIG) of the Rural Sociological Society is soliciting submissions for a graduate student paper award in the area environmental or natural resources sociology. The paper should be related to the broad interests of the NRRIG. Current graduate students and recent graduates (who receive their degrees no earlier than May of the year of award) may apply.

Coauthored papers are acceptable, including those co-authored with faculty. If co-authored, the applicant (a) must be the lead author of the manuscript, and (b) provide a statement detailing the relative contributions of each co-author.

The recipient will receive a monetary prize of at least $100 (final amount TBD based on NRRIG budget) to defray the cost of attending the Annual Meetings of RSS. The recipient will also be recognized at the NRRIG business meeting.

There is a two-step process for submission: 1) Submit an abstract to present the paper at the 2020 meeting; 2) Send an electronic copy of the full paper with contact information to the NRRIG chair (Cat Edgeley at catrin.edgeley@nau.edu) by May 4 of the year of application; and (3) if co-authored, provide a statement detailing the relative contributions of each co-author.

The paper submission should not exceed 35 double-spaced pages (including all tables, graphs, and references) in a standard font (12 point). The winner will be selected by a committee of NRRIG members and notified by June 1 of the year of application.

SubscribePast IssuesTranslate ▼

Papers will be evaluated using the following criteria.

1. Advancement of knowledge in the area environmental or natural resources sociology.
2. Significance of the topic for the NRRG of the Rural Sociological Society.
3. Quality and implementation of the research, theory, and argument.
4. Analysis and interpretation of the findings.
5. Clarity and organization of the writing.

NRRIG WILLIAM R. FREUDENBURG AWARD OF MERIT

The William R. Freudenburg Award of Merit is presented to recognize exceptional contributions to the sociology of natural resources and the environment. The award is given to recognize an outstanding legacy / collective body of work that has demonstrably impacted natural resources and environmental sociology.

Recipients will have the following qualifications: outstanding research and scholarship as evidenced not solely by numbers of publications, but their impact: simply put, we are looking for recipients who have substantively affected the trajectory of thinking within natural resources and environmental sociology. Such impact may also be evidenced via application of work beyond the academy, such as work with a natural resources agency, organization, or other partnerships. Other contributions to the NRRIG or sociology of natural resources and environment, such as an outstanding legacy of outreach, graduate student mentorship, and/or instruction are also envisioned as important criteria for consideration. Nominees are not required to be present or past members of the NRRIG.

To nominate someone please submit 1) up to three letters of nomination that clearly explain the reasons for considering the nomination and the nominee's contribution to the sociology of natural resources and environment, as well as 2) a current copy of the nominee's CV. Additional supporting materials may be sent, but are not required. Nomination materials must be submitted to the NRRIG chair, Cat Edgeley (catrin.edgeley@nau.edu) by May 4 of the year of application. The winner will be selected by a committee of NRRIG members and notified by June 1 of the year of application.

Sociology of Agriculture and Food (SAFRIG)

2020 SAFRIG Student Paper Award

The Sociology of Agriculture and Food Research Interest Group (SAFRIG) will present a Student Paper Award at the annual meeting of the Rural Sociological Society. Requirements for this award include that:

- 1) the paper focuses on an agrifood topic,
- 2) the paper is authored by a student or group of students (no faculty co-authors),
- 3) all authors are members of the Rural Sociological Society,
- 4) the paper will be presented at the 2020 RSS annual meeting (i.e. abstract has been accepted for presentation),
- 5) the paper uses the Rural Sociology journal guidelines for style, formatting, and references.

SubscribePast IssuesTranslate ▼

Papers will be particularly competitive if they demonstrate effective use of innovative theories, methods, and/or attention to unique geographic, cultural, and political contexts. Submissions for the Student Paper Award competition can be under initial review at a peer-reviewed journal but cannot be already accepted (in press) or published in a peer-reviewed journal. The winner(s) will receive a certificate and monetary award. The award will be presented during the SAFRIG Business Meeting at the 2020 conference. Questions and submissions should be sent to Florence Becot at becot.1@osu.edu. Submission deadline is May 15, 2020.

Ralph Brown Scholar Paper Award

Rural Sociological Society Community, Health, and Family Research Interest Group Ralph B. Brown Scholar Paper Competition Submission

Deadline: Friday, April 3rd, 2020

The Community, Health, and Family Research Interest Group (RIG) is proud to announce the fifth annual Ralph B. Brown scholar paper competition designed to encourage and support research in rural communities. The call for papers is open to a wide range of topics in keeping with the spirit of the award's namesake, Ralph Brown. Emphasis should be placed on such topics as community satisfaction and attachment, social change and development, family and community, and community leadership. International research is highly encouraged in accordance with his dedication to international development studies. Preference will be given to those papers that make a strong contribution to our understanding of rural community life and health. How are rural communities adapting to challenges brought about by scientific changes, economic transformation, or health needs?

Annoucements

Agriculture and Food Research Initiative Foundational and Applied Science

The AFRI Foundational and Applied Science (FAS) Request for Applications (RFA) supports grants in six AFRI priority areas to advance knowledge in both fundamental and applied sciences important to agriculture. The six priority areas are: Plant Health and Production and Plant Products; Animal Health and Production and Animal Products; Food Safety, Nutrition, and Health; Bioenergy, Natural Resources, and Environment; Agriculture Systems and Technology; and Agriculture Economics and Rural Communities. Research, Extension and Integrated Research, Education and/or Extension projects are selected in this FY 2020 RFA. Project types and deadlines vary by program area priority. The RFA also includes eight specific priorities for co-funding with the American Pulse Association, Colorado Potato Administrative Committee, The Cotton Board, Kansas Wheat Commission, The National Honey Board, and USA Dry Pea & Lentil Council. Read the full FAS request for applications.

Women and Minorities in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics Fields Program (WAMS)

WAMS supports research, education/teaching, and extension projects that increase participation by women and underrepresented minorities from rural areas in science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) fields. This program addresses educational needs within broadly defined areas of food, agriculture, natural resources, and human (FANH) sciences. Applications recommended for funding must highlight and emphasize the development of a competent and qualified workforce in the FAHN sciences. WAMS-funded projects improve the economic health and viability of rural communities by developing research and extension initiatives that focus on new and emerging employment opportunities in STEM occupations. Read the full WAMS funding opportunity.

SSSP: Editorial Search for Social Problems Call for Applications

Deadline for applications is January 15, 2020.

The Society for the Study of Social Problems (SSSP) is soliciting applications for the position of Editor of the Society's flagship journal, Social Problems. The Editor's three-year term will begin with the operation of the new editorial office at mid-year 2021. The new editor will be responsible for editing and promoting Volumes 69-71 (years 2021-2024). We seek a diverse pool of editorial candidates with distinguished scholarly records, previous editorial experience (e.g., service as journal editor or associate editor, editor of scholarly editions, etc.), strong organizational and management skills, and the ability to work and communicate well with others, including with scholars in academic and non-academic settings. A familiarity with and commitment to Social Problems and the SSSP are essential. Applicants must be members or become members of the SSSP by the time of their application and continue to be a member during their tenure as editor.

Please direct all inquiries, nominations, expressions of interest, and application materials to Dr. Shirley A. Jackson, Chair, SSSP Editorial and Publications Committee, at shja2@pdx.edu. For a full description of the position and application process, click here.

Agri-Food Markets towards Sustainable Patterns: Trends, Drivers and Challenges

The range of suitable contributions for this special issue is wide: case studies, experiments and other forms of empirical evidence, as well as application of theoretical concepts. More specifically, we welcome manuscripts that help to outline sustainable horizons of the future agri-food market, dealing with:

- “green” changes in consumer demand
- sustainability and innovation along the agri-food chains (ecopreneurship; vertical integration and horizontal alliances; farming associationism)
- efficiency and inclusiveness of sustainable agri-food systems (agri-ecology and organic farming; small producers; safeguard of the natural and cultural heritage; relationship between food, gastronomy and territory; neolocalism; alternative agri food networks)
- interaction between the agri-food market and agrienvironmental policies
- market regulation instruments (public policies and national and international governance; impact of specific free trade agreements and trade tariffs; food sovereignty and sovereignism)
- tools to prevent risks which may jeopardise agrifood markets.

UKCPR Announces Second Round RFP for Research on Senior Food Hardships

The University of Kentucky Center for Poverty Research (UKCPR), with underwriting from the Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) in the U.S. Department of Agriculture, announces a second round competition for research contracts that expand understanding of, and the attendant policy implications for, food-related hardships among older persons in the United States. For purposes of this RFP, older persons are defined as those ages 60 and older.

We seek research proposals from qualified individuals and institutions to provide rigorous research in one of three topical domains: 1) Describing households with food insecure seniors, including, but not limited to, factors such as functional status and ability to live independently, access to transportation, mental function, spousal health status, and social network and family connections; 2) Understanding factors underlying participation and re-certification in food assistance and other safety net programs; and 3) Evaluating the causal impact of food and non-food assistance programs on health and nutrition outcomes, as well as related outcomes such as consumption trade-offs. Total anticipated funding under this mechanism is $1.2 million of four large subcontracts at $250,000 each and four small subcontracts at $50,000 each.
